

A personal briefing for clinicians and researchers.

ABOUT BRIEFLET

Brieflet is a personalized briefing app for clinicians and researchers. It filters articles from sources selected by each person against that person's work, research, interests, and existing knowledge, then prepares a finite brief with linked summaries.

WHAT IT DOES

- Filters new articles from chosen sources against each person's professional interests.
- Summarizes relevant articles and links directly to the original sources.
- Shows skipped items and supports corrections that improve future filtering.
- Delivers a finite brief once or twice daily, with reading and audio controls.
